Aims as a Councillor:

“Simon Rubner has been a town councillor for 6 years. He has been involved in local politics since the 1990's and has fought a number of elections during that time. Simon is a member of the General Management Committee, The Transport and Business Forums. Simon has volunteered since primary school and is passionate about the voluntary sector. In addition to his work on the Town Council, Simon is an Independent Custody Visitor and also volunteers for other charities. Simon joined the Town Council because he wanted to make a difference locally and is proud of the achievements the Town Council makes to enhance Elstree and Borehamwood. In his working life, Simon holds a managerial position at an E commerce business based in Central London. He is married with two children who attend local state schools.”
